

Back when I was a kid, there was no such thing as Leave NO Trace.....

Or was there? The second weekend of our Wood Badge experience will feature Patrol camping and Leave No Trace (LNT) methodology. While the organization of LNT might be new to you, chances are you learned some of the principles of LNT growing up.

Remember the saying “Only you can prevent Forest Fires?”

That was first spoken in 1949 by Smoky the Bear, the representative of the US Forest Service (shown on the left for the 50th Anniversary of the BSA!).

And don't forget “Give a hoot—don't pollute!”

That spoken on the first Earth Day in 1970 by Woodsy Owl as part of the US Forest Service campaign to raise awareness of protecting the environment.

Leave No Trace— it's been taught by some of our best childhood role models from the beginning. Leave a legacy and pass it onto the next generation!

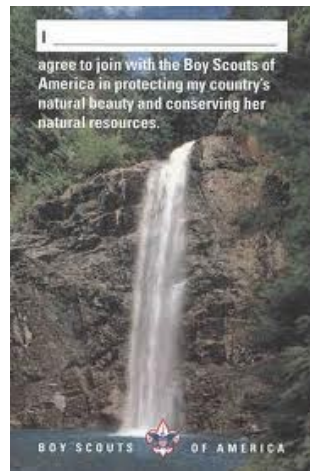

To teach your troop or pack about Leave No Trace sign up for The Trainer Course which assists participants in learning more about the seven principles of Leave No Trace and techniques for disseminating these low impact skills. The next course is April 2015
