What is Wood Badge?

In 1911, Baden-Powell took the first steps in training Scouting's adult leaders by organizing a series of lectures for Scouters. He made great strides in the years that followed, culminating in 1919 with the establishment of Wood Badge training. Wood Badge recipients now number more than 100,000 and can be found in all corners of the world. Wood Badge is the advanced leadership and team-building training for adult leaders.

It teaches skills that are useful in Scouting and elsewhere. Wood Badge focuses on team leadership, not outdoor skills. The Wood Badge course brings together leaders from all areas of Scouting— Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Varsity Scouts, Venturing, and all levels of BSA's professional staff. Reflecting the best of nearly a century of Scouting experience, Wood Badge also draws upon the most current leadership models being used by corporate America, academic circles, and successful outdoor leadership organizations throughout the country. The Wood Badge course is designed to represent a month in the life of a Scout unit, with participants entering as Cub Scouts, then bridging into Boy Scouts to form patrols for the remainder of the program. Selected staff members will interact with participants as a Venturing crew. Participants will take part in numerous presentations, discussions, and activities that explore and advance a wide range of leadership philosophies and tools. In addition to all the opportunities for learning at a Wood Badge course, participants will find a tremendous amount of fellowship, a keen sense of accomplishment, and plenty of fun.

Wood Badge should:

- ◆ Enhance leaders ability to train other leaders who can effectively lead their groups.
- ◆ Increase the number of units using small and large group models best defined by the patrol method.
- ◆ Increase the efficiency and effectiveness with which units operate.
- ◆ Leaders will be more effective working with large units comprised of many dens/patrols/adults giving more individuals the opportunity to lead.
- ◆ Improve retention of adult leaders through increased personal satisfaction and fulfillment

First Wood Badge Staff, 1919

In 1919, Mr. W. deBois Maclaren purchased an estate in Epping Forest, near London, called Gilwell Park and presented it to the Scouting movement. On the morning of September 8, 1919, the 61 year-old retired general of the British Army, General Baden-Powell, stepped out into the center of a clearing at Gilwell Park. He raised to his lips the horn of a greater Kudo, one of the largest of African antelopes. He blew a long sharp blast. Nineteen men dressed in short pants and knee socks, their shirt-sleeves rolled up, assembled by patrols for the first Scoutmasters' training camp held at Gilwell. The camp was designed and guided by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, the founder of the World Scouting Movement.

A LETTER FROM THE COURSE DIRECTOR

Does anyone ever have enough tools?

The song written by Pete Seeger and Lee Hays in 1949 included the following lyrics:

*If I had a hammer
 I'd hammer in the morning
 I'd hammer in the evening
 All over this land.*

A hammer is one of many tools and almost every tool ever invented had a simple purpose—to aid in the accomplishment of a task. Those of us involved in Wood Badge are all about accomplishing a task and our singular purpose is to provide you with the tools you need to fulfill the mission of the Boy Scouts of America at every level of the program—Packs, Troops, Teams, and Crews.

But more than the Boy Scouts, the tools and techniques included in NEIC’s Wood Badge course will equip you skills and abilities that can improve your work life, relationships at your place of worship and possibly even at home with your family. While the focus remains helping Scouters become better equipped to help the youth of northeast Illinois, we are more than happy to help out in all phases of life.

Legend has it that a woman approached a Course Director of Wood Badge in another part of the country and asked this question “I understand you can make my husband listen?” The Course Director assured the woman that Wood Badge included a session (think “tool”) entitled “Learning to Listen, Listening to Learn” and that if her husband took the course he might, indeed, become a more attentive listener. The woman immediately pulled out her checkbook and paid for her husband to take Wood Badge.

We can help you listen too. And build teams, and plan projects, and solve problems, and coach & mentor, and optimize diversity, etc. etc. Come join us for the most exciting, fun filled learning environment available within NEIC. We’ve got hammers, screwdrivers, wrenches.....

Add tools to your tool box this summer.

Wood Badge Savings

Have you ever wondered why Wood Badge is so expensive? After all, isn't Thrifty one of the twelve points of the Scout Law? What you may not realize is that being thrifty is exactly why you SHOULD take Wood Badge C7-129-19 this summer! If you were to take seminars covering the same subjects, it would cost you or your employer thousands of dollars! Compare these prices with a popular training company:

And I'll bet you have to provide your own meals for those other seminars. At Wood Badge, meals are included along with a T-shirt and a hat! Besides, how many seminars allow you to spend five days and three nights at beautiful Camp Sol R. Crown and the premier Jadel Training Center playing Scout games? So where does your money go for Wood Badge? The fee covers all your training materials, plus the aforementioned perks, plus your neckerchief, woggle and beads, plus licensing for access to top-of-the-line training information, plus an excellent menu for you to feast upon. Realistically speaking, Wood Badge could be the best investment you make in your Scouting and professional careers!

That being said, we do realize that $260 is still a big chunk of change. Assistance is available:

The American Legion and VFW offer scholarship opportunities for members specifically for Wood Badge. You may download an application from our website (look under Forms/Links and select forms) <http://www.neic-woodbadge.org>

Your chartering organization may be willing to fund your Wood Badge experience. Ask your chartering organization representative about options.

Your employer may be willing to help pay for a portion or all of your Wood Badge training. If you need help convincing the boss, go to <http://www.neic-woodbadge.org> and download the Letter to Employer. You can give that to your boss; it hardly mentions that this is a Boy Scout event!
